

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.1

Competence

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	5
Annotations and Commentary	8
First Sentence of MR 1.1.....	8
Second Sentence of MR 1.1	8
Legal Knowledge.....	9
Skills	10
Thoroughness.....	10
Preparation.....	11
Reasonably Necessary for the Representation.....	12
Representative Disciplinary Cases	12
Incompetent Conduct Warranting Discipline	13
Repeated Acts of Incompetence	13
Lack of Legal Knowledge, Skill, Thoroughness, and Preparation	15
Undertaking Representation without Sufficient Knowledge	18
Representative Malpractice Claims	20
Expiring Visas	20
When Immigration Authorities Make Obvious Factual Errors, Causing Denial of Claim for Relief	21
Risky Untested Strategies	23
Special Areas of Concern	23
Excessive Caseloads.....	23
Ineffective Assistance of Counsel Claims.....	24
Competence with Technology	26

AILA ETHICS COMPENDIUM

Poor Client Communication and Competence	27
Pro Bono Work	28
Limiting Scope of Representation.....	28
Hypotheticals	30
Hypothetical One: Naturalization—Asking More Questions	30
Hypothetical Two: Asylum Pro Bono—When to Ask for Help	32
Hypothetical Three: Employment-Based Permanent Residence—Never Assume.....	33
Hypothetical Four: Marriage-Based Permanent Residence—Taking Your Client’s Word	34
Hypothetical Five: Marriage-Based Permanent Residence—What’s the Story?.....	37
Hypothetical Six: Multiple Immigration Practices Areas—Can You Do It All?.....	38
Hypothetical Seven: Temporary Protected Status—Look Before You Leap.....	39
Hypothetical Eight: Be Careful What You Promise—Documentation.....	41
Hypothetical Nine: Withholding of Removal and Marriage-Based Residency Application—One Mistake after Another	41
Hypothetical Ten: Motions, Reconsiderations, and Appeals—When Enough Is Enough!	43
Hypothetical Eleven: The Merits Hearing—Calling the Right Witnesses	44

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.3

Diligence

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	51
Selections from Other Relevant Rules.....	54
Annotations and Commentary	55
Representative Disciplinary Cases: Lack of Diligence or Promptness.....	55
Failure to Meet Deadlines or Court Appearances.....	56
Unreasonable Delay.....	58
Failure to Take Action.....	59
Inadequate Investigation and Preparation	61
When Is Neglect (Lack of Diligence or Promptness) Malpractice?.....	63
Necessity of Lawyer-Client Relationship	63
But-For Causation	64
Role of Experts in Immigration Malpractice Actions.....	65
Representative Malpractice Cases	67
Malpractice Based on the Lawyer’s Judgment: Pushing the Envelope.....	67
When to Move for Reconsideration or Not	68
Failure to Pursue Alleged Alternative Avenue of Relief.....	69
Special Areas of Concern	71
Ineffective Assistance of Counsel Claims:
Criminal and Immigration Cases	71
Neglect and Mental Health/Substance Abuse Issues:
Lawyer’s Assistance Programs.....	75
Heavy Caseloads	77
Delegation.....	77

Hypotheticals 78

 Hypothetical One: When Diligent Preparation Is Not Enough..... 78

 Hypothetical Two: When Procrastination Becomes a Problem..... 80

 Hypothetical Three: It Takes Time Anyway, What Difference Does
 It Make If It Takes a Little Longer? 82

 Hypothetical Four: When to Consider Pre-Vacation Planning..... 83

 Hypothetical Five: Losing the Farm 84

 Hypothetical Six: Deciding Case Strategy—Pursuing Simultaneous Relief or Focusing on One Thing at a Time?..... 86

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.4

Communications

Theo Liebmann, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	93
Selections from Other Relevant Rules.....	95
Annotations and Commentary	96
Manner of Communication.....	96
Frequency and Promptness of Communication	96
Significance of Information Being Communicated	98
Mode of Communication.....	98
Missing Clients	101
Joint Representation	103
Withholding Information	104
Pandemics, Environmental Disasters, and Similar Crises	104
Substance of Communication	105
Scope of Duty to Communicate Generally.....	105
Matters Requiring Client’s Informed Consent	106
Limitations on Lawyer’s Conduct.....	106
Explaining a Lawyer’s Mistake.....	107
Explaining Adverse Consequences.....	108
Explaining Criminal or Fraudulent Courses of Action	109
Means versus Objectives	110
Hypotheticals	111
Hypothetical One: Responding Promptly to Clients.....	111
Hypothetical Two: Communicating about Procedural Issues	113
Hypothetical Three: Explaining an Ineffective Assistance Claim.....	114
Hypothetical Four: Reviewing a Client’s Options Thoroughly	115

Hypothetical Five: Disclosing a Supervisor’s Error	117
Hypothetical Six: Co-Client Communications	119
Hypothetical Seven: Communicating a Lawyer’s Error	121
Hypothetical Eight: Consulting on Client Objectives and the Means of Achieving Them	123
Hypothetical Nine: Disclosing a “Corrected” Mistake	124

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.5

Fees

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	131
Key Terms and Phrases	133
Terminology of Fee Agreements: Not Defined in Model Rules	133
Fee Calculation.....	133
Hourly Rate	134
Flat Rate Fees	134
Contingency	134
Hybrid	135
Timing	135
Advance Payment or Advance Fee	135
Paid as Billed on a Regular Basis	136
Classic or General Retainer Agreement.....	136
Special Retainer Agreement	136
Nonrefundable Fee	137
Minimum Fee	137
Safeguarding Advance Payment of Client Fees.....	137
Annotations and Commentary	138
Reasonableness of Fee	138
Reasonable Fees	141
Fraudulent Billing.....	142
Inadvertent Overcharging or Sloppy Billing Practices	143
Adequate Communication	145
Scope of Representation.....	145
Basis or Rate of Fee	146
Preferably in Writing	147

Timing of Communication	148
Change in Basis or Rate of Fee or Expenses	149
Contingent Fee Agreements	150
When Permitted	150
Writing Requirement	152
Specific Terms of Agreement	152
Liability for Expenses	153
Accounting for Recovery of Funds	153
Circumstances Prohibiting Contingent Fee Agreements	153
Permissibility for Two Lawyers to Divide Fees	154
Proportionality	155
Joint or Shared Responsibility	156
Written Consent of Client	156
Reasonableness of Fee	157
Other Issues Involving Division of Fees	157
Special Areas of Concern	158
Alternative Fee Dispute Resolution	158
Interplay between MR 1.5 and MR 1.15(c): Advance Fees and Trust Accounts	159
Interplay between MR 1.5 and MR 1.16(d): Nonrefundable and Minimum Fees	160
Interaction between MR 1.5(a), MR 1.5(b), and MR 1.8(a): Reasonableness of Fees, Modification of Fee Agreement, and Business Transactions with Client	163
Hypotheticals	164
Hypothetical One: Your Time Is My Time—My Time Is Your Time (Removal Case)	164
Hypothetical Two: It’s Your Problem, Not Mine (Labor Certification Case)	165
Hypothetical Three: I Don’t Know What I’m Doing, but You Can Pay Me to Learn (U Visa)	168
Hypothetical Four: Transparency and Diligence—No Rule Violations and No Refund (Removal Case)	170
Hypothetical Five: Let’s Call the Whole Thing Off (H-1B Problem; USCIS Flip-Flop)	172

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.6

Duty of Confidentiality

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

Theo Liebmann, Reporter (Update)

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	181
Key Terms and Phrases	186
Information Relating to the Representation	186
Informed Consent	187
Confirmed in Writing.....	188
Implied Authorization.....	189
Fraud or Fraudulent.....	189
Reasonable or Reasonably	190
Substantial.....	190
Annotations and Commentary	191
Basic Prohibition against Disclosure of Confidential Information.....	191
What Is Confidential Information?	191
Factors That Vitiates the Prohibition against Disclosure of Confidential Information: Implied Authorization and Informed Consent	193
Revealing Confidential Information of One Client to the Other and Vice Versa	194
Exceptions to Accomplish Particular Purpose.....	199
Revealing Confidential Information to Prevent Death or Bodily Harm	201
Revealing Confidential Information to Prevent Client from Committing a Crime or Fraud	202
Disclosing Confidential Information after a Crime or Fraud Has Occurred.....	204
Disclosing Confidential Information to Obtain Legal Advice about Ethical Obligations	205
Disclosing Confidential Information to Advance a Claim or Defend against Actions	206

Disclosing Confidential Information When Required to Do So by Law or Court Order	209
Disclosing Confidential Information to Address Conflicts of Interest When Moving to a New Firm or When Firm Undergoes Lawyer Personnel Changes	211
Obligation to Prevent Inadvertent Disclosure of or Unauthorized Access to Confidential Information.	212
Special Areas of Concern	215
Cloud Computing	215
Metadata	217
Use of Social Media	218
Outsourcing Legal or Support Services	219
Supervisory Responsibility over Lawyers and Nonlawyers	221
Hypotheticals	222
Hypothetical One: Lawyer’s Blog, Don’t Spill the Milk!	222
Hypothetical Two: John and Maria, Married Couple—But for How Long?	224
Hypothetical Three: Joe and Alpha Corp.—Breaking Up Is Hard to Do!	227
Hypothetical Four: John the Lawyer and Maria the Client—Can’t We Be Friends?	229
Hypothetical Five: GREEN CARDS R US—Mum’s the Word!	232
Hypothetical Six: Asylum Corroboration—Can We Trust the Mail?	236
Hypothetical Seven: Multijurisdictional Conundrum	238

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.7

Conflict of Interest: Current Clients

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	245
Annotations and Commentary	248
Directly Adverse Conflicts	248
Identifying the Lawyer-Client Relationship Generally	249
Identifying the Lawyer-Client Relationship in the Immigration Context.....	251
Potential Conflicts	255
Disciplinary Case—Potential Conflict of Interest.....	256
Current Client Conflicts.....	257
Former Client Conflicts	259
Third-Party Conflicts	260
Personal Interest Conflicts	262
Representation Notwithstanding Concurrent Conflict.....	266
Reasonable Belief in Ability to Provide Competent and Diligent Representation to Each	267
Representation Not Prohibited by Law.....	268
Not Claim by One Client against Another before Tribunal	269
Informed Consent, Confirmed in Writing	270
Special Areas of Concern	271
Informed Consent or Waivers of Potential Conflicts, Practical Considerations Generally	271
Waiver of Potential Conflicts of Interest in Immigration Matters.....	275
Dual or “Joint” Representation in Immigration Matters.....	278
Hypotheticals	286
Hypothetical One: Removal of Conditions.....	286
Hypothetical Two: U-Visas and Derivatives.....	289

Hypothetical Three: Employment-Based Permanent Residency Matter	292
Hypothetical Four: Employment-Based Permanent Residency Variation	296
Hypothetical Five: Employment-Based Permanent Residency Variation	298
Hypothetical Six: Investment-Based Permanent Residency	301
Hypothetical Seven: Business Visas	303

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.9

Duties to Former Clients

Theo Liebmann, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	313
Annotations and Commentary	317
Prior Lawyer-Client Relationship	317
Formation of Relationship	317
Current Client versus Former Client	319
Substantial Relationship Test	320
Material Adversity	323
Informed Consent and Waiver	323
Rebutting the Presumption of Acquired Information	324
“Using” Information versus “Revealing” Information	325
Former Government Lawyer	326
Legal Services and Nonprofit Organizations	327
Hypotheticals	327
Hypothetical One: Substantial Relationship and Generally Known Information	327
Hypothetical Two: Robot Wars and Material Adversity	329
Hypothetical Three: Open-Ended Representation and the “Hot Potato” Gambit	331
Hypothetical Four: Loyalty to the Former Client of the Former Firm	333

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.14

Client with Diminished Capacity

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	341
Annotations and Commentary	344
Normal Client-Lawyer Relationship	344
Diminished Capacity—Causes	346
Taking Protective Action	348
Reasonable Belief	348
When Clients May Not Be Able to Act in Their Own Interests	349
Risk of Substantial Harm to Client	350
Examples of Protective Action	350
Disclosure of Confidential Information	351
Special Areas of Concern	352
Representation of Mentally Impaired Clients Seeking Immigration Benefits	352
Representation of Unaccompanied Minor Seeking Immigration Benefits	353
Withdrawal from Representation under MR 1.16 and Obligations under MR 1.14	357
Conflicts of Interest under MR 1.7 and Obligations under MR 1.14	358
Hypotheticals	360
Hypothetical One: U Visa—15-Year-Old	360
Hypothetical Two: DACA—17-Year-Old	362
Hypothetical Three: Asylum—12-Year-Old	364
Hypothetical Four: Asylum—Adult Mental Impairment	365
Hypothetical Five: Asylum—14-Year-Old	368
Hypothetical Six: Asylum—Adult Mental Impairment	370

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.15

Safekeeping Property

Theo Liebmann, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	377
Selection from Other Relevant Rule.....	381
Key Terms and Phrases	382
Accounting.....	382
Advance Fee	382
Costs	382
Flat Fee/Hourly Fee	382
IOLTA	382
Operating Account.....	382
Retainer	383
Promptly	383
Property	383
Trust Account	383
Annotations and Commentary	383
Interest and IOLTAs.....	384
Where Should the Lawyer's Client Trust Account Be Located (and Which Laws Apply)?	384
Advance Fees: Whose Money Is It?.....	385
Returning Funds at the Termination of Representation.....	387
What If a Lawyer Cannot Find Their Client?.....	389
Hypotheticals	390
Hypothetical One: I Got Cold Feet, but I Got My Money Back	390
Hypothetical Two: A New York Lawyer Moves to Maine.....	392
Hypothetical Three: Dancing to Earn My Fees.....	394
Hypothetical Four: Pay Attention to That Trust Account!	397

Hypothetical Five: Automatic Payment Deposit System and the Missing Client	398
Hypothetical Six: Using Up Client Deposits.	399
Hypothetical Seven: Depositing Lawyer’s Own Funds into Trust Account	400
Hypothetical Eight: Notice to Clients Regarding Trust Account Activity	401
Hypothetical Nine: Where Should Lawyers Go to Find Their States’ Requirements for Use of Trust Accounts?.....	403
Hypothetical Ten: The Client Bonus.....	404

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.16

Declining or Terminating Representation

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	411
Selections from Other Relevant Rules.....	414
Annotations and Commentary	415
Grounds for Mandatory Withdrawal	415
Conflicts of Interest	416
Perjury, Fraud, or Other Criminal Conduct.....	419
Excessive Caseloads.....	420
Know Thyself	421
Reporting Responsibility	423
Impairments as Mitigation	423
Obligations to Clients When Withdrawing for Health Reasons.....	424
What Do You Mean I Am Discharged?—I Quit!.....	424
Discharge When the Client Is Impaired	426
Grounds for Optional Withdrawal	426
Do No Harm	426
Choosing to Walk a Fine Line.....	427
Failure of Client to Meet Obligations.....	431
Can't Afford to Handle This Matter or Deal with This Client.....	434
Other Good Cause for Withdrawal.....	435
Withdrawal in Matters Pending before a Tribunal	437
Obligations to Client When Representation Is Being Terminated	439
Notice to Client of Intent to Withdraw	439
Return of Client Files, Property, and Unearned Fees	440
Anything Else the Lawyer May Need to Do to Protect Client's Interests under MR 1.16(d)	443

Hypotheticals	444
Hypothetical One: “Lost in Action ... Where Are You?”	444
Hypothetical Two: The Client’s Asylum Narrative—True or False, or I Just Don’t Know.....	446
Hypothetical Three: Who’s the Boss?.....	448
Hypothetical Four: All in the Family	450
Hypothetical Five: No Good Deed Goes Unpunished.....	452
Hypothetical Six: Who’s the Client?.....	454
Hypothetical Seven: Lawyer for Life? Refusing to Accept Discharge	456
Hypothetical Eight: Is a Lawyer Required to Accept a Case?	458
Hypothetical Nine: Duty to Investigate.....	458

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 1.18

Duties to Prospective Clients

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	465
Annotations and Commentary	468
Definition of Prospective Client	468
Treatment of Information Provided by Prospective Client	469
Minimizing Receipt of Disqualifying Confidential Information.....	471
Prospective Client Conflict	472
Factors That Lead to Prospective Client Conflict	473
Prospective Client Conflict of One Lawyer May Bar Representation by Another Lawyer in the Same Firm	477
Permissibility of Representation after Receipt of Disqualifying Information	478
When There Is Informed Consent, Confirmed in Writing	478
When There Is No Informed Consent and Conflict Is Imputed	480
Special Areas of Concern	481
Inadvertent Creation of Prospective Client Relationship through Use of a Professional Website or Participation in Chat Rooms or List Servers	481
Inadvertent Creation of a Prospective Client Relationship through Presentations in Beauty Contests, in Response to Requests for Proposals, or in Other Settings.....	483
Hypotheticals	486
Hypothetical One: Online Questionnaires for Prospective Clients.....	486
Hypothetical Two (Variation on One): I'll Check on It Later.....	490
Hypothetical Three: Prospective Client or Client?	492
Hypothetical Four (Variation on Three): Use of Disclaimers in Foreign National's Language	495
Hypothetical Five: Duties Owed to Former and Prospective Clients	495

Hypothetical Six (Variation on Five): Prospective Client
Though Not Present..... 498

Hypothetical Seven: A Quick Conversation in the Reception Area..... 499

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 3.1

Meritorious Claims and Contentions

Theo Liebmann, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	509
Selections from Other Relevant Rules.....	512
Annotations and Commentary	514
Determining Whether a Claim Is Frivolous	514
Malicious Intent and Harassment	515
“Good-Faith” Arguments for Extension, Modification, or Reversal of Existing Law.....	516
Duty to Investigate Facts	517
Additional Leeway for Lawyers of Clients at Risk of Incarceration.....	518
Do Matters before USCIS Constitute “Proceedings”?	520
Candor toward the Tribunal Versus Meritorious Claims	520
Sanctions.....	521
Hypotheticals	523
Hypothetical One: Advising Clients on Available Claims	523
Hypothetical Two: When to Inquire Further.....	526
Hypothetical Three: Further Clarification and Timing on Further Factual Inquiry	527
Hypothetical Four: Questionable Basis for a Claim	529

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 3.3

Candor toward the Tribunal

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

(2020 Revisions – Theo Liebmann, Reporter)

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	535
Selections from Other Relevant Rules.....	537
Annotations and Commentary	537
Don't Offer False Evidence.....	537
If You Did, Correct It	539
Disclose Directly Adverse Controlling Authority	539
When False Evidence Has Been Offered, Lawyer Must Rectify.....	541
What Are Reasonable Remedial Measures?	541
Try Getting the Client to Agree to Withdraw False Evidence	543
Threaten to Move to Withdraw or Actually Withdraw with Some Disclosure	543
Disclose as Last Resort.....	544
What If Lawyer Doesn't "Know" but Reasonably Believes That Evidence to Be Offered Is False?.....	544
What Level of Diligence Is Necessary When the Attorney Only Suspects False Evidence?.....	545
Don't Facilitate Perjury or Criminal Act Related to Proceeding	546
Reasonable Remedial Measures Same with Fraud or Criminal Act	547
Obligation of Candor Continues through Conclusion of Proceeding	547
Candor Trumps Confidentiality (Up to a "Reasonable" Point).....	549
Duty of Candor Extends to Ex Parte Proceedings.....	550
Hypotheticals	551
Hypothetical One: Deciding Whether to Correct the Record: What Level of Candor is Required?.....	551
Hypothetical Two: Pending Criminal Charges: What to Reveal and When?	553

Hypothetical Three: Materially False Statements by a Client: What Remedial Action is Required?.....	554
Hypothetical Four: When New Evidence Undermines the Legitimacy of a Case: Materiality and Knowledge.....	555
Hypothetical Five: Actions and Observations: When the Duty of Candor Ends.....	557
Hypothetical Six: Client Intentions: When Actual Knowledge of Material Fraud Requires Remedial Measures.....	558

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 4.1

Truthfulness in Statements to Others

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	565
Annotations and Commentary	566
Material False Statement to Third Person	566
Failure to Disclose Material Fact to Third Person to Avoid Assisting Crime or Fraud by Client.	567
Hypotheticals	569
Hypothetical One: Picking and Choosing Legal Advice—Don't Confuse Me with the Facts	569
Hypothetical Two: When Duty of Loyalty, Confidentiality, and Truthfulness Collide—Can't the Lawyer "Wink" Every Once in a While?	571

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 4.3

Dealing with Unrepresented Person

Theo Liebmann, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	579
Relevant Selections of Related Rules	581
Annotations and Commentary	581
When Is a Person “Represented” in a Legal Matter?	581
“Dealing on Behalf of a Client”	585
Clarifying the Lawyer’s Role	585
Investigators and Others Acting on the Lawyer’s Direction	587
Contacts through Social Media	588
Providing Legal Advice to an Unrepresented Person	590
Hypotheticals	593
Hypothetical One: Helping a Client’s Employee	593
Hypothetical Two: An Unrepresented Party with Adverse Interests	594
Hypothetical Three: How Much Role Clarification Is Enough?	595
Hypothetical Four: Client Permission to Interact with Unrepresented Party	596
Hypothetical Five: What Constitutes “Legal Advice”?	597
Hypothetical Six: Advising a Third Party to Lie	599
Hypothetical Seven: Information versus Advice	601
Hypothetical Eight: Contact with Constituents and Employees of a Corporate Client	603

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 5.3

Responsibilities Regarding Nonlawyer Assistance

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	609
Annotations and Commentary	613
Who Are These “Nonlawyers”?	613
Managerial Authority	614
What Is Reasonable?	615
Supervisory Authority	616
When Is a Lawyer Ethically Responsible for the Misconduct of a Nonlawyer? . . .	620
Special Areas of Concern	621
When Does a Nonlawyer Cross the Line? Aiding Unauthorized Practice of Law	621
Proper Handling of Immigration Forms and Submission of Court Papers: Lawyer Authorization for Nonlawyer Legal Assistant to Sign Lawyer’s Name	625
Ensuring Confidentiality	627
Use of Paralegals as Primary Contact Person	628
Further Guidance regarding Ethical Use of Nonlawyer Paralegals	630
Hypotheticals	630
Hypothetical One: Long-Distance Supervision—Can It Work?	630
Hypothetical Two: Expediency—When a Telephone Conversation Becomes More	634
Hypothetical Three: Oops! We Hate When That Happens—But What to Do? . . .	636
Hypothetical Four: When A “Good Deed” Goes Punished	638
Hypothetical Five: Escrow Accounts—“As Long As You Don’t Steal Any Money, You’re OK!”—Wrong!	640
Hypothetical Six: “We Can Trust You”—When a Drop of Water Can Cause a Flood	643

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 5.5

Unauthorized Practice of Law; Multijurisdictional Practice of Law

Sherry K. Cohen, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	651
Annotations and Commentary	655
Basic Principle.....	655
What Constitutes the Practice of Law for Purposes of MR 5.5?.....	656
Professional Judgment	657
Practice [of Law] Under Federal Immigration Rules	658
Statutory Authorized Practice by Nonlawyers.....	659
Suspended or Disbarred Lawyers	660
Enforcement and Sanctions for UPL.....	661
How Does a Lawyer Assist UPL?.....	661
Indicators of Unauthorized Practice by Non-admitted Lawyer.....	664
Exceptions for Temporary Out-of-Jurisdiction Practice.....	665
Engagement of Local Counsel	667
Pending or Potential Matter to Be Resolved by a Tribunal	668
Pending or Potential Matter to Be Resolved through Alternative Dispute Resolution.....	669
Transactional Matters.....	670
Exceptions for Permanent Out-of-Jurisdiction Practice.....	671
In-House Counsel or Government Lawyers	672
Federal Exception.....	673
Special Areas of Concern	675
Virtual Offices and Bona Fide Office Requirements.....	675
Advertising and Multijurisdictional Practice	677
Choice of Law, Jurisdiction, and Unauthorized Practice	679

Hypotheticals 681

 Hypothetical One: Have Law Degree, Will Travel!..... 681

 Hypothetical Two: Limits on Legal Advice..... 684

 Hypothetical Three: When Expanding Business Becomes Unauthorized Practice 688

 Hypothetical Four: Using Co-Counsel..... 690

 Hypothetical Five: Foreign Legal Services 693

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rules

7.1—Communications Concerning a Lawyer’s Services

7.2—Communications Concerning a Lawyer’s Services: Specific Rules

7.3—Solicitation of Clients

Theo Liebmann, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	701
Annotations and Commentary	705
What Constitutes a “Communication”?	705
What Constitutes an Impermissible Solicitation?	706
What Makes a Communication “Misleading”?	709
Disclaimers	710
Law Firm Names, Letterheads, and Websites	711
Referral Services	712
Claims of Specialization and Expertise	713
Hypotheticals	713
Hypothetical One: Transparency and Specialization	713
Hypothetical Two: The Immigration Guru	714
Hypothetical Three: A Nice Dinner	715
Hypothetical Four: A Double Standard for an “Immigration Specialist”?	716
Hypothetical Five: Firm Names, Referral Arrangements, Lavish Gifts, and Advertising Your Fees	717
Hypothetical Six: “Winning Ugly” Advertising—Unethical or Just Embarrassing?	718
Hypothetical Seven: Overpromising	719
Hypothetical Eight: Social Media Profiles	720
Hypothetical Nine: The Boasting Business Immigration Lawyer	721
Hypothetical Ten: The Unintended Lawyer-Client Relationship	722
Hypothetical Eleven: One of “America’s Best Lawyers”?	723
Hypothetical Twelve: Responding to Negative Reviews	724

American Immigration Lawyers Association

AILA Ethics Compendium

ABA Model Rule 8.4

Misconduct

Theo Liebmann, Reporter

A publication of the AILA Ethics Committee and the AILA Practice & Professionalism Center
A member service of the American Immigration Lawyers Association

Contents

Introduction and Background	731
Selections from Other Relevant Rules.....	734
Annotations and Commentary	735
When Does a Criminal Act “Reflect Adversely” on Fitness as a Lawyer?	736
Offenses Involving Violence	736
Offenses Involving Dishonesty and Fraud	737
Drug and Alcohol Offenses	737
What Types of Dishonesty, Deceit, and Misrepresentation Constitute Ethical Violations?	738
Document Falsification Outside the Practice of Law.....	738
Culpable State and Plagiarism.....	739
Ghostwriting	739
Deceptive Tactics	740
What Type of Behavior Is Conduct Prejudicial to the Administration of Justice?.....	741
What Is the Reach of the Anti-harassment and Anti-discrimination Provisions of MR 8.4(g)?	742
Hypotheticals	743
Hypothetical One: Expunged Arrests and Accurate Self-Reporting	743
Hypothetical Two: Culturally Insensitive Language at McDonald’s	745
Hypothetical Three: Deception and Social Media	746
Hypothetical Four: Discriminatory Behavior	748
Hypothetical Five: Is Civil Disobedience an Ethics Violation?	749
Hypothetical Six: Getting Someone Else to Do the Dirty Work	750
Hypothetical Seven: Virtual Deception.....	751
Hypothetical Eight: Questionable Claims and Abuse of Process	752